

What is this?

This is a GitHub page that will be used to answer any questions you have on the business requirements that are specified here. If you have any questions on the business requirements please post your questions in the GitHub issue section and I will answer your questions ASAP. Once you feel you have an understanding of the application requirements then you may submit a quote using the system that brought you to this page. When submitting a quote please make sure to follow all the guidelines mentioned here.
